Have you been putting off a migration? If you're managing a merger or acquisition, a change in cloud platforms, or end of support for Microsoft Office 2013, now is your chance. Save time, money, and the headache of a manual migration with MigrationWiz. For a limited time, BitTitan is offering discounts on some of our most popular licenses so you can get moving with your migration. From mailboxes to documents to Microsoft Teams and everything in between, we have the tools you need to get your migration done easily, securely, and on-time.

So many reasons to migrate now

Microsoft has announced the end of support for Office 2013 products. That means the end of technical support, updates, and bug fixes. It also means they'll no longer address potential security vulnerabilities. Use MigrationWiz to move as soon as possible to Microsoft 365 for a full suite of cloud-based services including Exchange Online, SharePoint, and Teams.

If you've recently completed an acquisition or are consolidating tenants to save costs, there's probably a migration on your to-do list as well. With MigrationWiz you can plan and execute your migration quickly and have full control over the scope and timing. MigrationWiz makes every migration easy. And, for a limited time, even more affordable.
